CURE THAT COUGH

Before it becomes chronic or injures the delicate tissue of the lungs. No other medicine cures so promptly, safely and thoroughly as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Thousands of precious lives are saved annually.

BY TAKING
"I believe that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL saved my life. Last May I had a severe cold. The violent coughing, for which I could procure no relief, at last brought on bleeding of the lungs. I was forced to take to my bed. The doctors were unable to do anything for me. I thought of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL and determined to try it. I did so, and it helped me right off. I took seven bottles of this medicine, and now consider myself cured. My cure was a surprise to all my acquaintances, who were hopeless of my recovery."—JOHN E. Question of Title.

Joanna T. Eversfield, by F. W. Hackett, has filed a bill against Henry U. King to have title to part lot 1, square 560, she states that her husband's grantor, W. M. King, entered into possession as the owner and her husband bought the same for $10,000, and it was subsequently ascertained that the lot was not his, but was the property of his father, Kendall King, of Ontario county, N. Y., who died about June, 1880, and said will was attested by two witnesses, and she having sought to sell the property objection has been made that the title is defective.

A Serious Loss.
Mrs. Knott of 220 street met with a serious loss Thursday in front of the new Palais Royal, 11th and G streets northwest. She was on her way to make a payment on some property, having in her pocket book $22, and while getting out some car tickets let her pocket book fall, and before she discovered her loss it had disappeared. The loss falls heavily on Mrs. Knott at this time, her husband having died recently, leaving her with a large family of children.

GEORGETOWN'S NEEDS.

They Are Set Forth at a Mass Meeting of Citizens.

A Better Water Supply Wanted—Rock Creek Should Be Arched and New Sidewalks Desired.

The needs of Georgetown, the rights of the people and the proper way to obtain what is wanted, were discussed last night in Co-operative Hall with a dignified but decided earnestness. There were present ministers, bankers, agricultural merchants, grocers, lawyers, commission men, contractors, government clerks, physicians and men of leisure.

Wm. H. Manogue was called to the secretary's desk and Mr. S. Thomas Brown to the chair. Mr. F. L. Moore made the first formal speech of the evening, saying that as Chicago is for Chicago, first, last and always, so must Georgetown be for herself. Otherwise nothing would be accomplished. Unanimity of sentiment must be had on all things. If not then the efforts of the people would be futile. Local pride should be at the head of every movement. Various subjects were then elaborated upon.

The Water Supply.
Mr. Archibald Greenlee, speaking of the water supply, said that he had been informed by Capt. Derby that Georgetown would not be connected with the proposed water supply service because it would take $5,000 more to do it than the funds on hand would permit. The pipes will be stopped within half a mile of town. The service he referred to, it is understood, was that which was to be furnished the section about Georgetown to the north, through the proposed Fort Reno reservoir, the site for which was given the District by Messrs. C. C. Glover and H. D. Waggaman. Mr. Manogue thought it an outrage not to bring the water to Georgetown, and that the water now as when there were but twelve feet in the great receptacle. He could not understand how this was. We should not go to Congress and the commission on beggars, he said. We should demand our rights, and regularly, too. Assiduous work would accomplish anything within reason. He had such little to say at his home that he had been obliged to construct his bath room on the first floor. The extension of the new system, though would give everybody on the "heights" satisfaction.

An Executive Committee.
In order to secure the proper legislation then it was agreed to appoint an executive committee to push the wishes of the citizens in this and other respects. Those chosen were Dr. Ritchie, Mr. Greenlee, Mr. Boteler, Mr. J. G. Waters, Mr. Brown, Mr. King, Mr. E. P. Berry, Capt. Lee, Maj. Hill, Mr. F. L. Moore, Mr. Robert Tenney, Mr. John Marbury and Mr. John Blundon.

Archling of Rock Creek.

The arching of Rock creek, Mr. R. E. Tenney thought, demanded the immediate attention of the people. It was unsightly, unhealthy, a barrier to the extension of the western part of Washington proper and a constant impediment to the growth of the west end. An arch would join the two cities in everything and bring about their natural advancement. Mr. F. L. Moore on that subject said that in speaking of the matter to Capt. Russell some time ago he had been informed that it would take nearly eleven million dollars to do the work. Carefully made calculations proved to him that the cost would be less. Intercepting sewers would run down the creek, and from a hygienic standpoint and would cost but something over one million dollars.

One of the prominent members of the association said after the meeting that there was a giant mistake somewhere with those figures. The Mt. Cenis tunnel in the Alps, which is nine miles long and was cut through solid rock, cost but nine million dollars. The Rock Creek arch would tend but from P to K street, six squares. Mr. H. B. Looker said that he believed that the citizens could bring about the matter in the manner suggested in reports and plans would entail an expense too enormous to meet the approbation of the people in general. An open sluiceway of spreading capacity was an engineering idea, he said. It demonstrated by the success of similar streams, but within the bounds of reason. The stream could be arched at the intersecting streets.

The Sidewalks.

Mr. John T. Mitchell selected as his subject, the sidewalks of town. These were in a horrible condition, he said. The Commissioners were ignoring what he said. She was not getting anything like what she is entitled to. The water supply was also spoken of unfavorably by him. It is said by the Georgetowners that they have no right to pay even water rent, as in the original act on the question of the corporation of Georgetown accepted the option of paying the total cost of laying pipe, the water being $56,000. In consideration of the expenditure it was agreed to and contracts made by which the citizens of Georgetown, after the expiration of four years, were to have their water free forever.

In the original act of Congress is found in this: "The rates levied by the said cities (Georgetown and Washington) shall never be a source of revenue other than as means of keeping in said cities a supply of water." They claim that the violation of the contract on the part of the government. While keeping in said cities a supply of water, this $56,000 paid has been returned.

The Question of Railroads.

The progress of the work pertaining to the entry of railroads into Georgetown was reported upon by Mr. George G. Boteler. The report was quite favorable to the probable early entry of the Norfolk and Western of the Norfolk and Western railroad, he said, had been put into Congress and pushed with all possible vim. He asked the co-operation of the citizens of Georgetown as soon as the bill came up for discussion. Another session of Congress will surely bring the steam engine west of town.

Some of those present were Messrs. F. L. Moore, John Marbury, Jr., Dr. A. B. Shekel, H. P. Gilbert, Geo. W. King, Geo. G. Boteler, Joseph H. Lee, Archibald Greenlee, J. G. Waters, Wm. H. Manogue, Columbus Thomas, Jesse H. Wilson, H. B. Looker, Robt. E. Tenney, Michael Dugan, John H. Schultz, Seth B. Archer, James Gallagher, J. L. Lipscomb, John Blundon, W. A. Cunningham, S. Thomas, Mr. King, Maj. Hill, Chas. A. Krause, M. Bickley, R. W. Darby and W. A. Gordon.

ORIGIN OF THE WALTZ.

The Popular Dance Shocked Our Great Grandfathers.

From All the Year Round.
It was Lady Jersey who introduced it, and when later the Emperor Alexander visited London, an army of foreigners gave a strong impetus to the movement. Its great popularity gives rise to many disputes as to whence the waltz originally came, whether from the old Provencal "La Sautieuse," or "Volte," or the German dance, the "Laendler."

The character of the dance was, however, greatly changed and modified. The tempo being rather accelerated. From Vienna it quickly passed to France. Dr. Burney saw it performed in Paris in 1780, and could not help reflecting: "How uneasy an English mother would feel to see her daughter so familiarly treated, and still more to note the obliging manner in which the freedom is returned by the females."

Had he lived a few years longer the good old doctor's sense of decorum would have received a shock in the welcome accorded to the dance by English women.

FOR FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Money Appropriated by Methodist Bishops After a Long Debate.

After a debate of nearly six hours, which covered the greater portion of two sessions, the general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Minneapolis yesterday afternoon decided upon the sum of $1,500,000 as the total to be appropriated for the work of domestic and foreign missions for the ensuing fiscal year.

This result was not attained until nearly two score of speeches—many of them of a semi-political character—had been addressed to the committee. The silver question, the tariff issue and the effect upon industrial and commercial conditions of Tuesday's elections entered into the discussion, causing the probable revenue of the mission, cause for the next two or three years. Perhaps the most pointed remarks were those of Bishop Walden, just before the vote was taken. He said that it would not be well to go right in the matter of appropriation until after the next presidential election.

"Until then," he said, "we will have no settled financial or commercial conditions. We have three years before us of an unsettled industrial and financial state of things. I do not believe that the times will improve until the next President is elected. (Applause.)

"I don't know whether we had a pointer on Tuesday (loud hand clapping), but I trust we did."

This was greeted with prolonged applause.
